Health

While health issues are not usually a barrier to acceptance into the enrolled nursing programme, the following questions help us to determine whether you have any health issues that may affect your ability to practice safely. As some health issues may make it difficult to manage clinical practice and/or full-time study, the selection committee may wish to discuss these with you to determine any support you may require if you are successful with your application.

Do you have any current or long-term physical health issues? Yes No

If you answered yes, please provide details below:

Please attach a copy of your CV that includes a chronological summary of work history (part time, full time, voluntary, including care of own children) for the preceding five years.

Convictions against the law

At the completion of the New Zealand Diploma in Enrolled Nursing programme leading to registration as a registered nurse or enrolled nurse, students are required to sit and pass the Nursing Council State Final Examination.

The application for registration asks students to disclose if they have been convicted of any offence against the law.

It is therefore our policy to alert applicants to this requirement and to ask them to make a similar declaration when they first apply. This information is sought so potential problems regarding registration as a nurse and access to clinical experiences may be discussed.

As all accepted applicants are police vetted through the enrolment process, it is important this initial declaration is correct. If an applicant provides information that is proved to be false/misleading, the application/enrolment may be declined/withdrawn.

An interview may be arranged to discuss any conviction declared.

Have you ever been convicted of any offence against the law (apart from minor traffic convictions)? Yes No
If yes, please provide details.

I hereby declare that the information I have given above is true and correct; no information which could have a material bearing on my registration as an enrolled nurse has been withheld; I understand that making a false declaration is an offence under the Crimes Act 1961.

I agree to notify the Faculty of Health, Science and Sustainability if there is any change to my situation throughout the duration of the programme.
